Artificial Human Eyes,
Adjusted without pain, by Dr. Spencer, Dentist, 254 Penn street.

Letter From George Jones, Esq., one of the Proprietors of the New York Daily Times.

[From the Daily Times.]
OFFICE DAILY TIMES, NEW YORK.

Enjoying as I now do the blessing of uninterrupted health—after enduring seventeen years of suffering—I should be recreant to every sense of justice, to every feeling of gratitude, and to every consideration of good will toward those who are suffering as I have been, if I remained silent as to the physician, to whose skill and kind attention I am already indebted under Heaven for so great a blessing as health.

For seventeen years I was the victim of Asthma in its worst form. About twelve months ago, I consulted Dr. Robert Hunter, who put me at once under active treatment by the inhalation of such medicines as he prescribes. A few weeks convinced me that I was in the right hands. I persevered with confidence, gradually and steadily improving under the treatment, until six months had elapsed, when I found myself completely relieved. I have been since, and am now, in the enjoyment of good health, gaining flesh and feeling well, although my old medical advisers could never hold out to me the least hope of such happy results under their treatment.

I offered some months since to make a public statement of my case, believing it due to Doctor Hunter and the practice he advocates, but he declined, for the reason that he considered his practice sufficiently well established on its general results, without the publication of isolated cases. I have reason to know, therefore, that my case although editorially alluded to in the columns of a city daily paper, was never published by Doctor Hunter himself.

I shall merely add that my previous suffering and present good health are known to hundreds, many of whom daily congratulate me on the evident and great improvement in my health. GEORGE JONES.

Lucky Harper, Esq.,
Editor of the Pittsburgh Post, many years ago, speaking of DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP, spoke as follows. It is as true now as then:

INFLUENZA.—One of the best medicines for the cure of influenza that can be found in the country is Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup. We have tried it, and take great pleasure in bearing testimony to its efficacy. There is no humbug about it. At this season of the year, when one-half of our citizens are sneezing and coughing, it should be known that a few spoonsful of this medicine will, in half a day, work a perfect cure. Reader, if you have a cold, take our advice, and buy a bottle of Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup. 140 Wood street.

Resident consultation office for lung examination, 120 Penn street, corner Evan's alley. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher
Cures in a lasting and permanent manner as any one can discover by one trial. Unlike most bitters, instead of creating and fostering the appetite for strong drink, it will cure the aptitude therefor, and in many instances it has entirely banished it. Be careful to ask for "Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher," as so valuable a remedy is apt to be imitated with spurious compounds, similar in name, but wholly devoid of its wonderful merits. Look for Dr. Keyser's name on the bottle and over the cork. If your druggist does not keep it, write to Dr. Keyser, 140 Wood street, and he will forward by express. Consultation rooms, 120 Penn street. Office hours from 9 A. M. until 4 P. M.

THE VETO SUSTAINED.

A New Bill Passed and Signed by the Governor, Allowing the Road an Increase of Capital.

COLORED PEOPLE IN RAILWAY CARS.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

HARRISBURG, March 22, 1867.

The bill allowing the Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to increase indefinitely, and without consulting the stockholders, the stock and bonned indebtedness of the Company, failed, entirely, the House not passing it over the Governor's veto.

A new bill was then introduced, limiting the enlargement of stock to fifteen millions of dollars, and requiring that the consent and direction of the stockholders be first given before any new stock whatever shall be issued. The bill was made to conform in all respects to the principles laid down in the Governor's veto.

The new bill passed both Houses, received the signature of the Governor, and is a law.

Governor Geary has signed the bill requiring railway companies to carry all passengers without distinction of color.

Resolved, That a longer confinement of said Jeff. Davis, without trial or arraignment, or specific time for trial, is not in accordance with the demands of justice and the spirit of the laws and requirements of the Constitution, and that in common justice, sound public policy and national honor unite in recommending that said Jeff. Davis be brought to a speedy and public trial, or that he be released from confinement, on bail, or on his own recognizance.

IMPORT DUTIES ON AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

Mr. MORGAN from the Committee of Finance, reported a substitute for the bill reported ye sterday for the exemption of Agricultural implements imported as models, from import duties. The substitute consists of two sections. The first exempts from duty works of Art imported for presentation to the United States, or any State or City. The second directs the Secretary of the Treasury to refund duties collected during the last fiscal year, on agricultural implements imported as models, and exempts such articles from duty until June 3d 1868.

The amendment was agreed to and the bill passed.

Referred to Military Committee.

Mr. CONKLING moved to refer the bill to the Committee on Judiciary.

The bill and amendment were then referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. HURLBURD moved the previous question.

The House refused to second the previous question, whereupon Mr. STEVENS moved to amend the resolution by making it read: "that Henry A. Smythe be impeached."

After considerable debate the subject went over till to-morrow.

BUSINESS FROM THE SENATE.

The House then proceeded to the business on the Speaker's table, and disposed thereof as follows:

The Senate amendment to the House joint resolution placing certain troops of Missouri on an equal footing with others as to bounties. The amendment strikes out the words "and those borne on the rolls as slaves."

On motion of Mr. McCLURG, the amendment was concurred in, and the joint resolution goes to the President.

The Senate amendment to the House bill to exempt wrapping paper made of wood or corn stalks from internal tax, adding a new section imposing a tax of ten per cent. on notes of any town, city, or municipal corporation, that are passed by any national bank, was considered and amended by adding a provision exempting from internal tax wrapping paper of all descriptions.

All the French Troops Gone—Vera Cruz Invested by the Liberals—An Attack Daily Expected.

GALVESTON, March 22.—A special dispatch to the Bulletin from Vera Cruz, dated the 15th, says Marshal Bazaine and the last of the French troops left on the 13th inst.

French iron clads Magenta, Magnium and Flanders, and a fleet of gunboats, still at Vera Cruz, would sail on the 16th inst.

The Liberals were investing the city, having possession of the railroad and water works, and an attack was daily expected.

A number of Imperialists are understood to have chartered a vessel, to be ready at any moment, to take them out of the country. No person is allowed to leave the city by the gates, and it is difficult to obtain reliable news from the interior.

The impression is that, in a short time, Vera Cruz will be in the possession of the Liberals. Tampico was still occupied by the Imperialists. Alliquiet there.

TROUBLE IN SCHUYLKILL.

Outrages by Coal Miners—Protection Asked from the State.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The coal miners in Schuylkill county, Pa., are committing most serious outrages. The rumbans are mainly Irishmen, and known as "Molly Maguires," and are banded together in secret organizations, for the purpose of controlling the mines, and therefore resort to murder and robbery. It is impossible to punish them, as when arrested and tried the juries are packed with confreres, and they escape.

On Friday last, Mr. Littlehales, a Superintendent, was murdered, with the hope of securing money he was supposed to have, but he had very little with him at the time. Threats are made against superintendents, and all live moments fly in fear of violence. Gov. Geary has been applied to for protection.

The train consisted of eleven wagons accompanied by two companies of the Fourteenth United States Infantry. Several lives were lost. The commissary stores and wagons were carried eighteen miles from the scene of the disaster.

RESIGNATION OF GENERAL ROSECRANS.

About two weeks ago General Rosecrans sent to the President his resignation as Brigadier General of the Regular Army. This action was taken because he could not, consistently with his self-respect, remain on duty where such measures as were adopted in Louisiana and Georgia should be executed. Gen. Grant, who endorsed his recommendation of acceptance thereon, but before further action was taken by the Executive, the latter received the above-named letter, and the New York Congressional delegation have united in a petition to the President asking that, in case General Rosecrans' resignation shall be accepted, General Sickles be appointed a Brigadier General in the Regular Army. This is urged for the merits of the case, and in the belief, also, that New York has no officer of the rank of general in the regular army. Should the resignation of General Rosecrans be accepted, there is no doubt that the appointment of General Sickels will be made.

General Lee in favor of a Convention to Think Virginia Should Get Back Into the Union as Quickly and Quietly as Possible.

RICHMOND, Va., March 22.—It will be authoritatively announced to-morrow that General Lee favors the calling of the people voting for a convention, and every man not actually disfranchised should not only take the necessary steps to prepare himself, but to prepare all his friends, white and colored, to vote right. He thinks the co-operation of all the people, officials and citizens, should be prompt, and that the chief object should be to get as quickly and quietly as possible back into the Union, with such rights as are left. He thinks the oath is such as every citizen not disfranchised ought now to be able to take as a simple matter of truth and unity as citizens of the country.

THE BUTLER MURDER TRIAL.

The Case Concluded.

ADLINGTON CONVICTED OF MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE.

BUTLER, PA., March 21, 1866.

John M. Thompson, for defendant. It is a fact that the men Teeples and Cunningham came to the party uninvited, and behaved in a manner which resulted fearfully and terribly. They were strangers and forced themselves upon that quiet, peaceful party. Their terrible death was the result of their own conduct. The defendant was comparatively a stranger in that community. His character was not impugned. The defendant was poor with a family of six children, a comparative stranger, and he was charged with the highest crime known to our law.

Mr. Thompson then recapitulated the testimony to some extent. The crime might have been done by some other person. He enumerated several persons who were at the party, and witnessed the transaction; yet the commonwealth have failed to place them upon the stand. They were bound to place all the evidence before the jury when they ask them to convict the defendant. It was not sufficient for the commonwealth to prove that the defendant was in a position that he could and might have done the deed; they must prove that he was morally impossible to have been done by another.

Lewis Z. Mitchell, for the Commonwealth, said: Kingdoms, nations, dynasties had been swept from the face of the earth, but God's word had remained intact. "Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed." The scales of justice were held blindly and no outside sympathy could move the beam. Were facts not established, if it were not so you might tear down the walls of the temples of justice, abolish your courts, break down the barriers which protect life, and let the assassin's dagger riot in murder. Mr. Mitchell spoke very eloquently in his opening. He then remarked on circumstantial evidence.

Mr. McJunkin closed for the Commonwealth. A duty devolved upon him which he must perform, whether he could wish to avoid it or not. There were two men struck down in the bloom of their youth, in the prime of their manhood. The defendant has sat here throughout the horrid details of this bloody tragedy, and his blue eye has never quailed or muscle moved. The sinews were as cold and hard as his murderous heart. I believe he has the mark of a cold blooded murderer on his brow. Mr. McJunkin went on to examine the evidence and commented upon it.

The judge then proceeded to charge the jury upon the law and the facts. He was about two hours in summing up. He gave a fair, graphic and lucid charge. Court adjourned at 5 o'clock on the 20th at 6½ P. M., when the Court adjourned to meet at the ringing of the bell.

At 9 P. M. the Court called, and the jury returned with a verdict of "GUILTY OF MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE."

A motion for a new trial will be filed to-morrow.

Violation of City Ordinance.

At an early hour yesterday morning Peter Bamberger, Reuben Wilson and Archy Taylor, three drivers of night carts, were emptying their carts, as is alleged, on ground of School street, in the First ward, Allegheny, where they are forbidden by the ordinance to deposit their loads. Mr. Wm. M'Kee, near whose premises the nuisance was being perpetrated, interfered and ordered them to desist. They refused, and a scuffle took place, in which Smith, Bamberger's negro in his employ, undertook to arrest the party. The night men resisted, and Barnes, on a switcher at Bodo's mill, drew out a knife and ran Smith off. Yesterday Mr. M'Kee made information before the Mayor charging all with violation of the city ordinance, and John Smith made information against Taylor for felonious assault and battery. The defendants were held to bail to answer at Court.

Alleged Outrage in the Fifth Ward.

On Wednesday evening a young girl, living in the neighborhood of Kittanning, got off the train at the Allegheny Valley Railroad depot, in the Fifth ward. She seemed to be a simple minded girl and appeared not to know exactly where to go or what to do. While she stood on the platform, the watchman at the depot noticed a party of young men, who had been loafing about the place, approach her. After some conversation with her they went away in the direction of Pike street. Some time afterwards the girl returned alone, and seemed in the greatest distress. Her clothing was torn, disordered and bloody. She stated that the young men, some seven or eight in number, had enticed her away and then outraged her person. Soon after this she left the depot for Allegheny city, and her present whereabouts is unknown. No further action on the veto of the Supplementary Reconstruction bill, which is expected to-morrow.

IMPEACHMENT TESTIMONY.

The Judiciary Committee continues to take testimony relative to the impeachment matter. The only evidence of importance seems to be that of General Fullerton, relative to the delivery of railroad stock to the Queenstown, March 22—The steamer City of Antwerp, from New York, arrived to-day.

Before Hon. James P. Sterrett.

This Court met Friday morning at nine o'clock, and proceeded with the COUNTERFEIT MONEY CONSPIRACY CASE.

—Commonwealth vs. Alexander Moffitt, Indictment conspiracy to charge and indict Isaac Thompson—taken up Thursday afternoon. The defendant, a resident of Washington county, is charged with having conspired with one William Dawson (not on trial by reason of his absence) to charge and indict Isaac Thompson (also of Washington county,) in the United States Court, in May last, accusing him of having in his possession and passing counterfeit national currency. In addition to the evidence offered on Thursday, of Moffitt having told Abraham Geary that he designed to "put up" Thompson on the charge brought against him, and of his having solicited Geary's assistance in the matter, it was testified that he said to Joseph Johnson (also arrested for passing counterfeit money, on oath of Dawson,) that he (Moffitt,) was a Government detective and wanted his assistance in convicting the Thompsons—Isaac and Samuel—that every one knew they were guilty, and that it would do no harm to convict them. Moffitt said he was sorry Johnson did not come when sent for, as he (Moffitt) could have saved him from arrest—that he had got Dawson to swear against the Thompsons, but that he (Dawson) had run off and had unless he (Moffitt) could get other evidence they would get off—said he had given Dawson a buggy and money to swear, and that if Johnson would swear against them (the Thompsons) he would get him (Johnston) released from the charge against him —that Dawson had not the nerve to stand up to it, having made the information and then run off. (This conversation took place on the Brownsville bridge in the latter part of May.) Dawson, in a conversation with Samuel Thompson, and in answer to a question what he meant by swearing against the Thompsons, replied that Moffitt had paid him d—d well, and in reply to the expression, by Samuel Thompson, "you would not swear against my brother for money?" he said, "Moffitt has me in a very tight place and would send me to hell if I didn't."

Samuel Thompson, on being cross-examined by Mr. Sterrett, swore that there was ill feeling existing between Moffitt and myself; did not say to William Gregg, "now is the time to make it hot for Moffitt;" did say, now was my time, that he had had his; I now have two suits pending against Moffitt at Uniontown.

Dawson, it was testified, asked a Mr. Butts what the people thought of the arrest of the parties? said he had to swear against himself; that the Thompsons always got all that he had. Moffitt, in a conversation with Mr. Butts, said Sammy Thompson was guilty, but not Isaac, and he didn't want to injure him; said he would get a government appointment for Butts, as he wanted him to help in the conviction of the Thompsons (This was after Dawson had decamped.) Butts said he went to Moffitt to trade a horse belonging to another man. About a week after the arrest Dawson said to B. F. Adams, in West Brownsville, that he had been asked or induced to swear against the Thompsons to save himself; that Moffitt would not let him off. Dawson also said to J. L. Thompson (brother of Isaac and Samuel) that if he had not taken for d—n Irishman Moffitt and the arrests would not have been made; that Moffitt had made him swear against Isaac.

The case for the Commonwealth closed with the testimony of Isaac Thompson, the prosecutor. He was arrested on the information of Dawson, May 17th, 1866, did not receive, (as charged,) three $20 notes from Dawson, and never paid him thirty-five cents on the dollar for counterfeit money. Own farms and have been engaged in different kinds of business; during the war bought horses for the government, at Uniontown, but not at Hagerstown; bought horses from soldiers; had known Dawson for seven or eight years; boarded at his house occasionally, and was in partnership with him in the stilling business about twelve years ago; was seldom, if ever, at home during the war—sent a married man. Told Henry Williams several times that Moffitt was guilty of conspiracy, and that I would put him through, never said that I would make him suffer; have no favorable opinion of him Most every one in the settlement (in the vicinity of Brownsville,) have passed, received and dealt in counterfeit money. Never said to Mr. Aiken in the presence of Major Monroe that I would be had the money, and were going to put Moffitt through.

Mr. Hopkins opened for the defense, and stated that Fayette and Washington counties had been flooded with counterfeit money, and it became the interest of all honest persons to break up the gang of shovers. Moffitt was one of the money. John Croft, recalled, also testified that he saw the money.

At this point the Court adjourned. The case will be resumed at ten o'clock on Monday morning. The jury were cautioned as to conversing about the case.

LUTHERAN CHURCH MATTER.

The following final order was made in the case of Wm. F. Lang and Washington Beeler, trustees of the First Evangelical Lutheran Church of Pittsburgh, vs. Jacob S. Newmyer, Adam Weaver and others:

And now to wit: March 22d, 1867, it appearing to the Court that on the 2d day of February, 1867, a rule in the above case was entered, requiring the defendants in said case to plead, answer or demur, on Friday days' notice, and that service of said rule was accepted by the attorneys of said defendants on the 19th day of February, 1867, and that no answer, plea or demurrer has been filed within the said period of thirty days after service of said rule, on motion of complainants counsel leave is granted to enter and decree that the bill or complaint of the complainant in said case shall stand and be taken pro confesso, and the Court do further order and decree that the preliminary injunction and decree of the Court made January 20

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

SATURDAY, MARCH 25, 1867.

WILL THE PEOPLE DECIDE?

For several years past popular sentiment in Pennsylvania has gravitated, and with increasing strength, towards Freedom in Railroad Building. Last summer such unanimity was developed among the people that both political parties, and both candidates for Governor, were constrained fully to endorse the policy. A large majority of the individuals who obtained seats in the Legislature, at the following election, were either formally pledged or definitely understood to concur heartily in the prevailing opinion.

Upon the convocation of the Legislature it was manifest a change had come over the thoughts and purposes of the members. This was more fully disclosed as soon as the Free Railroad Bill was introduced into the Senate. It was referred, as a matter of course, to the Committee on Railroads, which had been constituted to meet this contingency. The Chairman of that Committee is the ablest man in the body; a clergyman of repute in his sect; blameless and respected in his private relations; and aspires to a seat in the United States Senate, in virtue of his official compliances with the behests of powerful corporate interests, but which he will be sure to miss. By the Committee alterations were made in the bill which revolutionized its character, making it provide effectually for suppressing freedom in constructing railroads, instead of sanctioning such freedom. In this perverted form the bill, against the most urgent remonstrances, was put through the Senate. In the House the look is no better.

The bill to repeal the act repealing the charter of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company, afforded another exhibition of the same spirit and intention.

When action touching these bills had assumed consistency and shape, so as not to be misinterpreted, a bill was brought forward to increase the capital stock and bonded indebtedness of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, without consulting the wishes or rights of the stockholders, to any extent the Directors may hereafter see fit. Now there is no valid objection to increasing the stock of this Company to any definite sum desirable for perfecting track and augmenting facilities, but there are the strongest reasons why a company should not be armed with unlimited power, as well as why Directors should not be made supreme, in any particular, over the constituency. In these particulars the bill was not only anomalous, but of dangerous tendency. Liberality should be the rule towards all railroad enterprises, old or new; but this altogether surpasses toleration or endurance.

In discussing, a few days ago, "The Relations of Pennsylvania to the Great West," the objectionable features of the bill were not in our mind. We viewed the bill simply as a means of giving to the Commonwealth power to compete successfully with Northern rivals for the prize lying west of the Mississippi. To that view we add neither qualifications nor abatements; and we now have the pleasure of announcing, that, after the first highly objectionable bill had fallen under the veto of the Governor, a new bill, adding fifteen millions to the capital stock of the Company, under the sanction of the stockholders, was introduced and immediately put upon its passage; that it passed the House with very little opposition and the Senate unanimously, received the Executive approval and is now a law. Thus the views we expressed in that article have been almost unanimously sustained by the Legislature and the Governor.

A week or so since we pointed out the only remedy for what is objectionable in the policy of the Commonwealth touching railroads; which consists in discarding old party arrangements and obligations for a season, and a drawing together of the people independently for the rectification of this evil. A Free Railroad Party can purify the legislation of the Commonwealth on this class of questions, and no other instrumentality can.

The Commercial copied what we said in full, handsomely endorsing it. Beyond this no citizen of Pittsburgh has assured us of his countenance in that movement. The people are the masters. Gaseous leaders in the journals may break the monotony of these dull and wet days, but will win no practical conquests.

Will the people decide? If so, the City Hall is a suitable place to inaugurate the movement.

RETALIATION.

When members of Congress resist the appropriation of one million of dollars to keep men, women and children in the Southern States from starving to death, for the reason that the Constitution does not authorize such expenditure of public moneys, we admit the force of the objection, and only wish that on all other subjects those gentlemen were equally scrupulous in keeping within the exact limit of their prerogatives. When other members excuse their refusal to sanction the appropriation, on the plea that it is necessary to spare the tax-payers by economizing expenditures, we only wish they had been equally considerate when determining the matter of raising their own salaries, and in deciding upon hundreds of other lavish or unnecessary grants. But when members place their refusal on the ground of retaliation for the cruelties inflicted by the Confederate Government or the rebellious inhabitants upon Union soldiers who fell into their hands as prisoners of war, they seem to us actuated by a ferocity and implacability, beyond the depth of human passions, and descending to the regions of the infernal and demoniac.

When the Confederate government, during the progress of the strife, was slaughtering, by systematic starvation, Union men, prisoners of war in their hands, we advocated retaliation, both as a measure of justice and mercy. Retaliation, then, would have brought the Confederate authorities to their senses, and saved the lives of thousands and tens of thousands of good men. After the war was over, we urged that the Southern leaders, who reduced starvation to a system, organizing it as a regular instrument of military operations, shou'd be brought to condign punishment, and for this specific offence. Not one of them has been arraigned. Not one of them have been pardoned. Nor can the fault be laid exclusively at the door of the President. Congress, as a body, has manifested impotience neither with the remissions nor clemency of the Executive touching this class of cases. It armed the President with discretionary power. He has used it, and the power has not been revoked.

If a man is attacked by violent men, who intend harm either to his person or property, he may defend himself, by any or all means at his command, so that he does not transcend actual necessity. Courts and juries are prone to allow much in favor of a man so assailed. They do not hold him to the rigid rule of balancing probabilities nicely, so as to use no more force in self-defence than upon a calm survey afterwards might appear sufficient. Allowance is made for the inevitable haste and perturbation of the instant. What if the next day, or month, or year, the man attacked should meet his assailants in a crowded thoroughfare, and shoot them down on sight? Does any body imagine the slaughter would be excused on the score of justifiable retaliation? Surely not. The original offenders were where they could be arrested, and delivered to the custody of the laws.

But the proposition to let the Southern people starve, because Union prisoners of war were deliberately famished, is worse than this. No assurance is given, or can be afforded, that the individuals now suffering at the South are properly answerable for the enormities justly complained of. It is not clear that all of them were even resident in the Southern States during the war. Many since have gone hither from the North or from Europe. Not a few of them may have been, and doubtless were, loyal all through the great struggle. At all events, the rebellion is suppressed. The masses of the Southern people are no longer public enemies, but fellow-citizens. It is neither humane nor patriotic to foster old enmities, or to implant fresh causes of alienation. They are true statesmen, who, not forgetting the past, so control their resentments as to rebuild again the foundations of the Union with the cement of mutual helpfulness.

The notorious Isham G. Harris writes, from Mexico, where he is living in exile, and doing penance for his active part in the rebellion, a doleful letter to the Memphis Avalanche, in which he depicts that country as anything but a pleasant place wherein to dwell. He has left in search of a new home. He will roam the world over and find no dwelling place so comfortable as the one he has forfeited by treason and infidelity to the Government.

At $80,000 the Tammany Society of New York has purchased the old site, on Fourteenth street, of the Medical College of the University. The lot is 116x121, and if in a Pittsburgh business centre would command nearly double that price. The Society will erect their new political headquarters without delay at a cost exceeding $300,000.

Ex-Governor Dennison, of Ohio, has again published a card, stating that his business engagements and private affairs will not permit his being a candidate for gubernatorial honors at the coming election.

Mr. Pike, of Pike's Opera House, Cincinnati, refuses to allow the use of his name as a candidate for the Mayoralty of that city.

The Democracy of Ohio are in favor of holding a grand National Convention of the party, at Louisville on the Fourth of next July.

BEHIND THE LIGHTHOUSE.
Old fogyism is not quite dead. People are still to be found who think that health is promoted by depletion! Was there ever such a false logic? Nature is the grand antagonist of disease, and the depletors propose to prostrate Nature, in order, one might suppose, to give the enemy a double chance at the life of the patient! The true practice is so to invigorate the vital powers as to render them an overmatch for the elements of disease. This can be done with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Of all vegetable tonics they are the most powerful and the most genial. At this season when even the strongest organizations are liable to be affected by the alternations of stringent cold and malarious moisture, this inestimable protective medicine is especially needed. Persons predisposed to biliousness, dyspepsia, constipation, intermittent fever, or any of the complaints which cold weather superinduces or aggravates, should take it regularly throughout the Winter and Spring months. It is absolutely pure and harmless.

THE INDIANS AND THE WHITE PINE.
Although long known to the aborigines of America, Dr. George W. Swett, of Boston, has brought into shape for convenient use, a most valuable preparation called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which for a number of years has given great satisfaction in the cure of all those ailments dependent on an inflamed or irritated condition of the mucous membranes of the animal organism. For gravel, diabetes, dropsy, chronic bronchitis, nasal catarrh, constipation, when depending on a debilitated state of the intestines, it is one of the most valuable discoveries recently added to pharmaceutical medicine. It is likewise a most valuable component for diseases of the kidneys and bladder generally, as any one can satisfy himself upon a single trial. Every one knows the healing virtue of the white pine for sores and ulcers, but Dr. Swett has gone to work and prepared from the sweet inside bark of that valuable tree a compound that will meet every indication where the pine would be valuable.
It is confidently recommended for the following ailments:
Diarrœa in young or middle aged people;
Diabetes in old people;
Stoppage of the Urine;
The same difficulty in children during the night;
Gravel, Kidney Trouble in old people;
Ulcerated Kidneys, Ulcerated Bladder;
Discharge of mucus, or pus, or blood from the bladder;
Bright's Disease of the Kidneys;
Pain in the Kidneys or Small of the Back;
Pain in the Bladder, Heat and Scalding;

PITTSBURGH
LIGHTNING ROD WORKS.
MUNSON'S COPPER TUBULAR
LIGHTNING RODS.
With Spiral Flanges.
This Rod has the power to carry off as much electricity as twenty common iron rods; in other words is equal to a solid bar of iron thirty inches in circumference. It does not rust; it cannot get out of order. It has received the first premium at seventy-five State and County Fairs and Institutes. It was never beaten in any contest. In this list we name Philetus Dana, Professor of Natural sciences, Pittsburgh High School; George Woods, President Western University of Pennsylvania, and L. C. Peraling, President Pittsburgh Female College.
Among the many rods of buildings upon which this Rod was erected within the past year in this vicinity we may mention the Locomotive Works; Bank of Allegheny; Keating Mills; Old First Presbyterian Church of Allegheny; Second Ward School House, Pittsburgh; Fifty Avenue House, Pittsburgh; St. Bridget's Church, Pittsburgh, &c., &c. In the surrounding country many of the best Rods have been erected on residences or public buildings. It may be examined on the Lutheran Church at Johnstown; on the Presbyterian Church at Greensburg; on Mr. Ferree residence, Hickory; on residences of Squire Dance, Lawrenceville; Mr. M. Fetson, McKeesport; Wm. Ewing, Frankfort Springs; S. P. & J. S. Lane, Sligsbethtown; Col. Wm. Miller, Port Perry; P. Baker, Sewickley Bridge; J. Lenhart, Cano burg; L. W. Lewis, Sharpsburg; J. F. Miller, Freedom; Friend Haxton, Baker's Station, &c., &c. This Rod is adopted by all who want lightning Rods wherever it is introduced, and to such as have them we have never known an instance of damage to a building protected by it, while many instances occur every year of damage to buildings upon which Rods have been erected; so noticeable has this fact become that responsibilities where attention is called to the subject, that we are almost daily called on to take down the iron rods and erect the Munson copper Rod.
Price, 30 cents per foot and $3 for points on each rod. Our workmen will go to any part of the country without charge.

THE VERY BEST
WATCH
IS MADE BY THE
American Watch Company, OF WALTHAM, MASS.
We claim, and are prepared to prove, that the American Watches, manufactured at Waltham, Massachusetts, are not only equal, but far superior, to the watches of England, Switzerland, and France. We also claim that they are CHEAPER, MORE ACCURATE, MORE DURABLE, and more easily kept in order and repaired than any other watches in the market.
Because in each one of the very numerous parts of which a watch is made up, we attain, by mechanical power, nearly absolute mathematical precision and uniformity, making every watch of any one set, is a true copy of its model.

The Fashions.

The "Opening Day" in New York is supposed to furnish the key note of the fashions, and we copy for our lady readers some notes from the New York World, concerning the latest styles as developed on the opening day:

BONNETS.

There is less interest and curiosity manifested this season than usual in the bonnet question, because it has already been pretty well settled that no great change will take place; that small bonnets will retain their ascendency, and chignons continue to be worn in spite of the rumors of their occupation by armies of "gregarines."

The new styles, however, are more sensible, according to the orthodox idea of the term, than the little "Gozzoni" and "Spaniel" surrounded with lace, which prevailed during the year past. The crowns are larger, some have a harrow brim, and others rim surrounding the crown which perked up or bent down, according to fancy, forms both brim and crape.

The shapes and designs are as varied and multiform as the expressions of which the human face is capable; there are scarcely two alike; but there is one general rule, and it is said to make even homely women look handsome.

Among the new shapes are two which stand out prominently from the rest. One has a low, round crown, and is called the Mergere hat. Its rim is worn very much flat, and crape, which rests low upon the forehead and surmounts the chignon.

It is made in all kinds of fancy straw, in silks and straw, in straw and crape, and straw and lace, and is especially becoming to the somewhat lengthened type of American beauty.

There is another style quite distinctive enough to merit a new appellation, but which still bears a close relationship to the Mount. It is a panchon, with points sharply defined, both back and front, and forming very deep curves, which suit the high antique style of wearing the hair, and prove wonderfully becoming. The shape is almost precisely the same back and front, the points descending low upon the forehead, the other in the centre of the chignon.

This style it is which proves a fountain of beauty to those not favored by nature, or who have outgrown their attractions.

In this connection we may mention a new and charming head-dress called the mignon, which we saw at Mme. Lemaire's, also the "Joan of Arc" girdles, the latest novelties abroad, and the "dog-collar" necklaces, generally worn with them to complete a set.

The girdles are composed of a net-work of cut jet, amber, pearl, green or white crystal, edged with rich bead fringe. They are attached to a belt or velvet band, and are arranged to lay flatto the figure, below the waist.

LINGERIE.

Among the novelties are short loose jackets of white guipure and Cluny lace, some straight, others pointed on the back, with flowing pointed sleeves.

The adoption of the long train, which sweeps aside with every step, and the introduction of the short dress for the street, has compelled a total revolution in underskirts and other garments.

All under skirts must be gored to fit neatly under a gored dress, and for the trained skirts, petticoats are required, reaching to within an inch of the bottom of the dress. These are not frequently of the finest cambric, richly embroidered, and trimmed with wide lace, guipure, Cluny, or Valenciennes.

White bodies are as much in vogue as ever, and are made of clear muslin and lace, guipure, Cluny, or Venetian point, one of the prettiest is the "Andalusian," with lace which simulates a jacket.

The "Shakespeare" or pointed collar, is still the favorite in lace and linen; but the linen collars are no longer the simple little rims for the throat which they were. They are now elaborately embroidered, and in addition, edged with narrow Valenciennes. The plainest style is only hemstitched with an edging of Valenciennes, which should be neatly fluted.

Narrow "Coventry" ruffling, woven with a linen edge, or plain if preferred, is much used for all kinds of under garments, and is an inexpensive, as well as a pretty and attractive finish.

DRESSES.

Of course, it is understood that all dresses are gored. Not all gored plain, but all gored more or less. Some prefer fullness at the back; in this case the two sides are left straight, not cut at all, and gathered into the belt.

The tendency, however, is to plain gored skirts, which do not admit of any fullness whatever, but lay as flat to the figure as if they were pasted on. This style seems like a charming affectation of the antique, when the wearer is fresh and young, but it will be much less attractive, if it becomes common.

What are called "double" dresses are worn upon nearly all occasions. The underdress being generally only a long trained and gored skirt, over which a gored tunic with a bodice attached, is worn.

Sometimes a high body and long sleeves are attached to the underskirt, and open, flowing sleeves to the low tunic, while in still other cases it is to the tunic that the train is attached, the underskirt forming a petticoat, over which the tunic is looped in front and at the side.

Those double dresses are generally made of two colors, and of silk and satin united.

We must also mention a dress of thick black silk, gored without plaits, and trimmed with cross-cut folds of black satin, embroidered with jet. These commence upon the waist and extend upon the skirt in graduated lengths, each one terminating in jet pendants.

Feather trimming is in great demand for dressy toilettes, and is very effective.

A tunic of light green satin, for instance, is trimmed with a band of soft white marabout, through which a line of light green runs. The long, gored skirt of white corded silk is perfectly plain.

The still antique brocades which are just now the rage in Paris have hardly yet found their way here, importations having been light in consequence of the uncertainty concerning the tariff; they are, however, to be found at Stewart's, brocaded in gold upon a white ground and in butterflies with spread wings upon black ground.

The short dresses, by the way, are one of the blessings for which we have to thank Fashion since last season. It is too late to speak of them now as novelties, and we are only too happy to be able to announce so useful and sensible a style as already an established institution. If our American tendency to exaggeration does not make them ridiculous, the short dress may be permanent, and a blessing to future generations.

A very small duplex elliptic skirt, "la Petite," has been introduced to wear with the short dresses, and is precisely adapted to them when made of a proper length. Worn without any hooped skirt, they fall closely and ungracefully to the figure. A small one, the shape adapted to the short, gored skirt, distends it only slightly, and, having a partial cover, as all hooped skirts should, only one skirt is required between it and the dress.

With the short suits, short loose sacs are worn, instead of basquines, not broad as formerly, but falling closer and more neatly to the figure without being fitted. Some are straight, some cut in points, but on a plan they correspond to the cut of the upper skirt.

Great attention is paid to the chaussure, now that short dresses are worn in the street, although really they expose the feet much less than when the wide skirts were looped over the swinging and "tilting" loops.

High Polish boots of kid, or bronze, (kid is considered the best taste), are worn, of the very daintiest shape and finish. Small stamped tips, of French leather, high heels brass mounted, and a great deal of ornamental work executed by the sewing machine, constitutes the finishing, and the cost is fourteen dollars per pair.

A Large Family.—There is a woman living in Rush township, Susquehanna county, Pa., named Ruth Rosenkrans, aged 88 years and 7 months, who is the mother of twelve children, the grandmother of ninety-one, the great-grandmother of two hundred and twenty-two, and the great-great-grandmother of twenty-four—making in all three hundred and forty-nine. A family of three hundred and fifty! A prolific family indeed. She is now well, and some time ago, knit a pair of socks in three days, and is able to do it now.

The Vibrations of Sound and Color.—The deepest note which the human ear perceives as a continuous sound, it is said, is produced by 16 vibrations in a second; the most acute by 48,000 vibrations. The extremes of color, it is said are red and violet, the former being given by 458,000,000,000 vibrations of light per second, and the latter by 727,000,000,000 vibrations.

—H. R. Kemp, private banker at Pithole, "went under" on Monday and closed doors. It is considered a hopeless suspension.

—It now seems to be the policy of the Department at Washington to examine the books of National Banks at irregular intervals. Close investigation is one of the greatest safeguards against irregularities, and should be persevered in.

—The following oil property is advertised to be sold by the Sheriff of Venango county:

Pittsburgh New York and Tionesta Petroleum Company. Grant Oil Company. A. L. Gee and Bolton Oil Company. Olmstead Oil Company Sheridan Oil Company of Cherry Run. Philadelphia and Shaw Creek Oil Company. Oil Creek and East Sandy Oil Company. Fountain Oil Company. Duquesne Rock Oil Company. Middle Walnut Oil Company. Clarion Land and Improvement Company. Martin Farm Oil Company. Amity Oil Company. Great Western Consolidated Oil Company. Jamison Oil Company. Eagle Spring Oil Company. New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore Consolidated Oil Company. Cascade Oil Company. East Sandy and Hall's Run Petroleum Company.

—Trade shows a little more activity in dry goods, as well as in groceries and provisions. Though the business in the former is by no means equal to what it has been for several years at corresponding dates, still it is pretty active. There are quite a number of buyers on the market for staple cotton goods, and prices are more firmly sustained. The woollen tariff having stimulated that department of trade, there is imparted a more cheerful tone to the whole dry goods business. While this is so, there is no speculation—no taking of large stocks for a future market. Prices for the time are firm, and while orders to the manufacturers continue light, hope is entertained that supplies, especially of staple goods, may be kept within the current demand, and the market thus be carried through the coming summer without any material decline of prices.—Phila. Ledger.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, } FRIDAY, March 22, 1867. }

The inclement condition of the weather had a tendency to restrict out-door business to-day, the operations in the leading commodities being comparatively light, but generally speaking, a firm feeling prevails in commercial circles, and for many articles, there is a very good demand, both for home use and speculation.

GRAIN—Wheat is in very limited supply, and may be quoted firm at $2,70 for No. 2 Spring, and $2,85 for No. 1. Oats in good demand and firm; we now quote at 50 to 53, on track, and 55 to 57, in store. Corn is wanted and prime shelled may be quoted at 78 to 80. 100 bushels Rye sold at Spring Barley at $1,05; and 500 bushels Rye at $1,35.

FLOUR—Is firm with a full for local demand, and prices are well sustained. We continue to quote at $12,50 for prime to choice Spring Wheat; $13,50 to $14,50 for Winter Wheat; and $16 to $17 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $7,50, and Buckwheat, $5,25 to $5,50.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm with a steady jobbing demand at 10 to 10½ for Shoulders; 11½ for Ribbed Sides, and 13½ to 14 for Sugar Cured Hams. Prime kettle rendered Lard is quoted at 13; sales of Mess Pork at $22.

SEEDS—There is rather more inquiry for Clover seed; sale of 35 bushels and 17 bushels Timothy at $6,50. Timothy seed is quoted at $3 to $3,25. Flaxseed is in active demand and sells readily at $2,85.

BUTTER—There is a steady demand for Roll, and we can report sales at 35 to 37, for prime to choice. Common Butter is in good supply and dull.

EGGS—The arrivals are again increasing, and with an increased supply, the market is less active, and prices a shade lower, and we now quote at 20 to 22.

HAY—Prime Timothy, in good condition, is in demand, and sells readily, on track, at at $25—sale of 1 car at $25.

GREEN APPLES—The supply of prime Apples, in sound condition, is light, and prices are a shade higher—may be quoted at $4 to $4,50 per bbl. Common are selling at a variety of prices.

POTATOES—The demand seems to be improving, although prices remain unchanged—sales at 75 to 80 per bushel, and $2,50 to $2,75 per bbl.

BEANS—We can report regular sales of prime small White at $2,75 per bush.

DRIED FRUIT—Is in good supply and very dull; small sales at 15 to 20 for Peaches, and 9 to 10 for Apples.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, } FRIDAY, March 22, 1867. }

CRUDE—The market was firm and somewhat excited to-day, and an advance of fully one quarter of a cent per gallon has been established. We can report a sale of 1000 bbls for April at 6½; and 2000 for April and May, (40 to 46 gravity) at same figure. 6¾. It is difficult at this writing to assign any direct cause for this apparent stiffness; but, we presume, the fact that there are quite a number of parties anxious to buy on speculation, has more to do with it than anything else. In the evening, holders generally are asking 6¾ to 7, though, as yet, no sales have been effected above 6¾. We have no late advices from Oil City, but we have no doubt, the little "flurry" here will cause an advance there.

REFINED—But a single sale of bonded oil reported to-day, 200 bbls standard white, on the spot, at 21¾. There is considerable inquiry for March and April deliveries in Philadelphia, and that, also, at a slight advance, but the extreme views of holders has a tendency to retard operations. One prominent operator in Philadelphia is reported as having sold nine thousand bbls, "short" for April, at 27½, as there is now buyers for save month at 25, and but very few sellers even at that, the operator above referred to may be a little "short" before he gets through this operation. For late months there seems to be but comparatively little inquiry.

PITTSBURGH METAL AND BLOOM MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, } FRIDAY, March 22, 1867. }

The transactions in metal have again been light this week, and hardly worth recording, and, as a matter of course, the market is dull and neglected, and prices are entirely nominal. As yet, the difficulties between the mill-owners and puddlers have not been adjusted, though it is rumored that there is a possibility of some of the puddlers going into the mills the next week or so, with the understanding that the puddlers go to work at the price proposed and agreed upon by the millowners, seven dollars per ton. The following are all the sales we had r ported:

200 tons Muck Bar	$ 76—	4 mos
100 do do	75	do
105 do Mah. Valley Forge	45	do
10 do Bell Bloom Charcoal	105	do
10 do Juniata Blooms	110	do

RIVER NEWS.

The river was rising slowly at this point last evening, with scant seven feet in the channel by the Allegheny marks. The Allegheny was reported rising at Oil City, and as the present soft weather appears to have been general, we may expect a rise in the Monongahela also.

The Great Republic passed over the falls at Louisville yesterday, and having passed all obstacles, she will proceed to New Orleans without further delay.

The Maggie Hays, from Cincinnati, is the only arrival we have to report, while aside from the regular packets, there were no departures. The Spray, from Cincinnati, is among the first boats due.

We have received a communication from an engineer in regard to the engines of the Great Republic, and will try and make room for it in our next issue.

The Ezra Porter, Capt. J. H. Porter, will positively leave for Cincinnati to-day, and will continue to ply in this trade hereafter, leaving here every Saturday. The Porter is admirably adapted for the trade, being a side-wheeler, almost new, and having superior accommodations for passengers

The Kenton, Capt. Dunlap, is filling up steadily, and will be the first boat out for New Orleans, and the Bellvernon, Captain Darragh, jr., will commence loading for St. Louis on Monday. These are both good boats, and Capt. Darragh expects to get out the latter part of the week.

The Ida Rees, Captain Joseph Brown, will leave for Cincinnati and Louisville this forenoon positively, and passengers and shippers can rely on this, and act accordingly.

The famous towboat A. J. Baker has arrived from New Orleans, after a long absence, during which time she has been engaged in towing coal between Louisville and New Orleans. Joe Baker is owned by our good looking friend, Capt. J. Sharp McDonald, and if report is true, she has made very handsome returns to her owners.

The Wanamita and towboat Alps arrived at Memphis on the 17th. The Minnie is loading at St. Louis for Pittsburgh.

The Cincinnati Gazette, speaking of the weather, says: The streets, sidewalks and wharf were consequently placed in a decidedly unpleasant state, which might be wholly described in the language of one of the lady passengers of the Great Republic, who had been out doing a little shopping. As she entered the cabin of the craft she dropped her umbrella, gave it a vigorous and casting a sweeping glance around, exclaimed to her attendant: "Chawley, it's horrible in this city!" We thought so, and smiled.

The same paper is also responsible for the following: Captain Donaldson, of the Great Republic received a telegram from the Falls Cavihe, at Louisville, saying there would be water enough on the falls on Friday for the steam mission, and he surveyed, that with all the freight he could get. Pink wants the Great Republic to take enough freight aboard from Louisville to New Orleans, and out of Stut Neal shipping the Richmond to New Orleans aboard of her.

The Kanawha, bound for Louisville, attempted to take a short cut to the Falls City, and run out in a cornfield, five miles below Columbus. The Navigator pulled her out of the cornfield Wednesday morning, and she proceeded on her way to Louisville. It is reported that the National bank at Little Rock has purchased the hull and one of the steamer Des Are from Elliott & Co., of Memphis, at the rate of $50,000 for the whole boat. We had the pleasure of meeting Captain Lew Abrams, of the Tahlequah yesterday.

The Louisville Journal says: Capt. W. R. Holcroft and others are about to close contracts for a clipper passenger packet, with low-pressure machinery, for the Louisville and New Orleans trade. She is to vie with the low-pressure Richmond, now nearly ready to start South on her first trip.

Enoch D. Montgomery, a new light-draught side-wheel boat, built for the mountain trade, was sold, at St. Louis, on Tuesday, for $10,000, to Messrs. Woolfolk, Smith and Baker.

The Dubuque Herald says: The officers of the N. W. Union Packet Company closed their session yesterday, which has been entirely unknown to outsiders as far as appointments are concerned. The company anticipate a dull season, and to make up for the poor business expected, the officers have asked employes to work for a reduction of from 25 to 40 per cent on last season's wages. P. L. Davidson declined the position, leaving notice that there would be a reduction all around, from the Captain down to the "cub" engineer. The salaries of the men of the High Water have been increased twenty-five cents per night, and the same be and is hereby fixed at $5,25 per night, to date from the first day of March, 1867.

SEC. 3. That all ordinances or parts of ordinances as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing, be and the same are hereby repealed.
